

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

"NOTABLE ST. LOUISANS IN 1900" needs little or no introduction or preface. It presents the portraits of 1,096 representative men of the fourth city of the United States. No work of this character can be absolutely complete, and in several cases names are unavoidably omitted owing to the impossibility of securing portraits, although the date of publication was delayed to obviate this as far as practicable. But between the covers of this volume will be found pictures of men who have distinguished themselves in all the leading professions as well as in manufacturing, wholesaling, jobbing and retailing.

Below each name will be found a brief title or description. For purposes of uniformity these titles are limited to two lines, and an effort has been made to select such descriptions as are most up-to-date and distinctive. To have enumerated every past and present office of some of those whose pictures are given would have required nearly a page of space, and would have changed the work from a portrait gallery to a collection of biographies.

An alphabetical index of portraits is appended. In the body of the work the classification is as accurate and complete as it was possible to make it, but in a city of aggressiveness and public spirit, in which the leading men rally round every movement for the common good, and where exclusiveness is the exception rather than the rule, no plan of classification by trades or professions can be invariably followed.

The portraits are uniformly good. More than 1,000 of them are from photographs taken expressly for this work by Mr. J. C. Strauss, who made a special sitting of each subject with but few exceptions. The half-tone engravings are by the Sanders Engraving Company of St. Louis, and the Columbia Engraving and Electrotype Company of Chicago.

The publishers are indebted to Mr. Joseph H. Barr and Mr. Joseph B. Widen, of Barr & Widen Mercantile Agency

Co., for assisting in the preparation of this work and the selection of names appearing herein.

The typographical and press work by the Woodward & Tiernan Printing Company will receive universal commendation. The binding is by the Beckett Printing and Book Manufacturing Company.

"NOTABLE ST. LOUISANS IN 1900" will be preserved as a work of reference for generations to come. Never before has so complete a work of reference of its kind been published in St. Louis, and it will be in almost daily use in newspaper offices and libraries, as well as in the homes of subscribers. As a portrait album alone, apart from its value as a work of reference, it is unique. Many of those who examine it will find accurate and artistic portraits of at least five hundred of their personal friends and acquaintances. To make such a collection in the ordinary way would involve weeks of labor and a large outlay of money.

No more appropriate year for the publication could have been selected. The last quarter of the century which is now in its closing year has seen St. Louis grow into a great metropolitan city. One after another Eastern rivals have been outdistanced both in population and manufactures. St. Louis has maintained its reputation for conservatism and financial solidity, and to these bulwarks of prosperity it has added aggressiveness and enterprise. The year 1900 finds it in the front rank as a commercial and financial center, and as a distributing point for goods of its own manufacture as well as for the pick of the world's markets.

When the States carved out of the Territory purchased by Thomas Jefferson decided to celebrate, by a World's Fair, the centennial of an event, aptly described as second only in importance to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, St. Louis was their unanimous choice for the site of the Exposition. In 1903 every civilized nation will be represented here, and to the visitors thus assembled as well as to those who entertain them, this work will be a source of interest as well as instruction.
